THE FOLKLORIST SNAGS TWO MORE EMMYS®!

by Jessica Leff, Digital Marketing Specialist

NewTV’s Co-Directors of Original Programming, Andrew Eldridge and Angela Harrer, won two more Emmy Awards on Saturday, June 4, at the Westin Copley Place for The Folklorist. One award was for Photographer Short Form and the other was for Director Post Production, bringing the total Emmy wins for the show up to nine. This is the fifth consecutive year that The Folklorist has been recognized by the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences, this year being especially competitive with the Boston/New England Chapter receiving over 1,000 entries.

Andrew and Angela had a great time at the awards ceremony, celebrating with NewTV staff and personal guests. They are grateful for the hard work of host John Horrigan and the rest of their talented cast and crew.

It’s not just the Academy that notices: This year, the program received two Communicator Awards and three Telly Awards, including the People’s Telly Award for Television Program, which could not have been won without the support of the show’s fan base.

The Folklorist team continues to produce more segments, recently wrapping their longest one yet, “The Baltimore Plot,” which will air in fall 2016.

NEWTV CELEBRATES 25 YEARS!

by Shelly Kamanitz, Director of Marketing & Creative Services

On May 11, NewTV celebrated its 25th anniversary with a gala and awards ceremony at the Brae Burn Country Club in Newton. The club was transformed with NewTV branding, whimsical decorations, an ice sculpture, a slide show of archival photos and a video documenting NewTV’s history.

Guests sipped cocktails and nibbled hors d’oeuvres at the reception to the strains of live classical music performed by the talented Suzuki School of Newton students.

The beautiful spring weather allowed people to mingle outside, with sightings of many current and former members, board members, students, interns, and local media professionals and elected officials enjoying themselves on the spacious balcony.

Executive Director Bob Kelly opened the event, followed by Board President Paul Sears, who spoke endearingly about the station’s value to the community. Phil Lipof, Emmy® Award-winning journalist and co-anchor of WCVB’s NewsCenter 5 at 5:00, delivered the keynote address, in which he credited NewTV for paving the way for his career by giving him experience in the field as an intern.

MISSION STATEMENT

NewTV is an Emmy® Award-winning, state-of-the-art media center dedicated to providing quality local programming and training to the diverse Newton community. As a non-profit organization, NewTV’s three channels (Community, Education and Government) provide an accessible platform for expression and innovation — an alternative voice to mainstream media.
NEWTV STAFF ADDITION: EUGENE FOYGELMAN
by Jessica Leff, Digital Marketing Specialist

Though Eugene Foygelman is our newest full-time employee, he’s no stranger to NewTV. After attending the Connecticut School of Broadcasting he became an intern here, working on projects such as The Folklorist. Once his internship was over, he began covering government and city-planning meetings, along with other events. It was important to him to produce high-quality videos so that the citizens of Newton could remain informed about important issues.

Eugene’s passion for video production began during his sophomore year of high school when he and a friend had to create a short video for an English class project. During his senior year, after filming, directing and editing short videos for his school’s Purim spiel, he realized he wanted to make video production his career.

Eugene is excited to be the production coordinator for the Education and Government channels. He looks forward to bringing the same quality of production he’s delivered on the Government Channel to the Education Channel so that Newton’s youth have the best possible platform for their content.

Thank you to everyone who attended and purchased program book ads, and to the following sponsors for their generous support: Village Bank, RCN, Commodore Builders, Mount Ida College and Belmont Savings Bank.

It finally feels like spring! We certainly started the season off right with the 25th anniversary gala. Thank you to our attendees and event volunteers, and congratulations to all of our award winners. You made the event very special and it was a wonderful time. We’re going to continue the good times this summer with Members Network meetings each month, new studio productions and new classes! First, we’ll be holding Members Network meetings on June 18, July 16 and August 13. Everyone who’s attended the meetings so far is really enjoying the group. We’d love for you to join us! Second, we have two new community produced studio shows: Legal Angle, produced by Ken Parker and Matt Yospin, and The Real Estate Forum, produced by Mike Spurr. I’m sure they’ll need crew, so let us know if you can help out! Finally, we’re excited to welcome Mark Chesak to teach Intermediate Adobe Premiere on Wednesdays in July. With the introduction of our new Data Video portable video switcher, we’ll be holding a Multi-Camera Field Production class in August. UPDATE
by Jenn Adams, News Director

With the spring semester coming to an end, Newton News says good-bye and good luck to two interns, Jackie Shames from Boston College and Ashley Cafaro from Curry College. It was a pleasure to work with both of these students and we wish them well as they now graduate and enter the “real” world.

We welcome summer interns Jackson Cote from Emerson College and Emily Erdos from Princeton University who will join us in July, Angela Chow will remain on board until June 30.

As always, I’m looking for interns and volunteers throughout the year, so if you know of anyone who’s interested please have them contact me via email or phone. Story ideas are always welcome. We look forward to another season of Newton News.
