AdoptED: NEW PODCAST
BY MARE
by Shelly Kamanitz, Director of Marketing & Creative Services

NewTV podcasting was officially launched in 2018, and we are pleased to announce that members are now producing exciting new content. MARE (Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange) is one of our “podcast pioneers,” having first joined NewTV in November 2017. MARE is one of the oldest adoption exchanges in the country, connecting children with families since 1957 and promoting adoption in the state of Massachusetts. Since their office is adjacent to NewTV, the folks at MARE introduced themselves right away.

They had worked with BNN, so they were familiar with community media. In 2016, they updated their website and social media presence and took a broader look at how they were using new technologies to connect with their audience. After they joined NewTV, they took classes and signed out equipment to do shoots and create educational videos about adoption success stories. These videos also provided NewTV with informative and valuable content. Podcasting was the next logical step in reaching out to the public, so they jumped right in and took the classes.

AdoptED is the name of their podcast and is also their sub-brand, a play on

ANNUAL MEETING AND RED CARPET AWARDS
by Elizabeth Flood, Digital Marketing Specialist

On March 20, NewTV hosted its 28th Annual Meeting and Red Carpet Awards. This is the second year that the Annual Meeting and Red Carpet Awards have been combined into one event, and we were happy to welcome so many members into our studio for the night.

To start off the Annual Meeting, Board President Paul Sears spoke and Treasurer Diana Cartier delivered a financial report. Executive Director Bob Kelly gave the annual report, going over the accomplishments of each department in the past year. Some of the highlights of 2018 included a new podcast class curriculum, the launch of Another Age Productions and the construction of the new soundstage. NewTV received numerous awards in 2018, including 17 Emmy nominations and four wins. NewTV’s Government Channel also won awards in 2018 for their election night coverage in 2017, and 111 new members joined in 2018. The Annual Meeting ended with the election of longtime member Arthur Pfaelzer to the Board of Directors.

The Red Carpet Awards followed, with The City of Newton receiving the Community Partner of the Year award, and Mayor Ruthanne Fuller accepting on MISSION STATEMENT

NewTV is an Emmy® Award-winning, state-of-the-art media center dedicated to providing quality local programming and training to the diverse Newton community. As a non-profit organization, NewTV’s three channels (Community, Education and Government) provide an accessible platform for expression and innovation — an alternative voice to mainstream media.

words enforcing the idea of educating the public about adoption. In this program, experienced families share their adoption stories to help prospective parents get an idea of what the process is like. Guests include interesting people from the adoption community, parents, resource providers and community partners.

Joe Sandagato, the director of communications and public relations for MARE, oversees the podcast. An adoptive parent of seven children and a volunteer within the child welfare system, Joe also has a background in marketing communications and executive leadership. His goal is to “make as many people as possible aware of adoption from foster care.” Joe listens to many podcasts on his long commute from the Cape, and sees them “as another way to reach people who have a voracious appetite for content.”

Jeremy Smith, digital communications specialist, is the producer and editor of the podcast. He sets up the recordings, makes sure everything flows well, edits the file with Audition, and then publishes and promotes it. Jeremy took one of the first podcast classes and was very impressed with the class instructor, who “brought hands-on experience with creating and distributing podcasts.” He thanks Member Services Director Brian Hebert “for scheduling their numerous podcasting sessions this year!”

its behalf. Member Barbara John accepted the Lifetime Achievement award. Jay Sugarman’s Museum Open House won the Viewer’s Choice Award for Episodic Program, and Barbara John and Paul Sears won the Viewer’s Choice Award for Documentary for From Angkor to the Kingdom of Cambodia. Benjamin A. Zou of Newton South High School and Kieran Wajsfelner of Newton North received NewTV’s annual scholarships.

The entire Annual Meeting and Red Carpet Awards ceremony was filmed by staff and aired on NewTV’s Community Channel.

Congrats again to all our winners, and thank you to all our guests!
Spring Volunteer Spotlight
NewTV would like to recognize Sande Young for her contributions to the station. Sande has been a crew member on Virginia’s Views and Vibes mainly as a teleprompter operator and has recently finished her sixth episode of her own show, Taxpayer Talk. She is a dedicated and hardworking producer, who met the challenges of creating a new show head-on, and was able to create an interesting program that is informative for all Newton residents. For her hard work and effort at the station, Sande will receive a gift card. Be on the lookout in the fall newsletter for our summer Volunteer Spotlight.

New Member Orientation
Orientation is held on the first Monday of each month.

GET INVOLVED WITH THE MEMBERS NETWORK
Are you looking to get more involved at NewTV? Our Members Network meetings are a great opportunity to meet other members, find out what they are working on and figure out ways to collaborate. These meetings are also a chance for members to screen projects, whether you are still working on a piece and are looking for feedback or want to show off the finished product. You also have the option to give a presentation to other members on a relevant topic; last meeting, member Ken Parker hosted a discussion on copyright laws. Reach out to our Director of Member Services Brian Hebert, bhebert@newtv.org, if you have a project you want to screen or a presentation idea for a future meeting. Mark your calendars for the next Members Network meeting on June 8.
COMMUNITY CHANNEL UPDATE

by Brian Hebert, Director of Member Services

The community has been especially active this spring, as we get ready for the warm summer weather and beautiful days to film outside. There have been a multitude of new members joining with new ideas on individual projects. Whether it be filming a cover band or starting a new podcast, each member has brought his or her own unique ideas and skills. We had several big events occur, including our Annual Meeting and Red Carpet Awards, Teamwork Trivia Challenge, and a team of NewTV members participating in a 48-hour film festival. There have also been several new classes led by now recurring teacher Matt Freund. Matt has taught classes in Advanced Adobe Premiere and After Effects and will continue to teach more classes this summer, including Photoshop, Illustrator and more in-depth training in Adobe Premiere.

EDUCATION CHANNEL UPDATE

by Stephen M. Kessinger, Director of Government & Educational Media

As the school year comes to a close, we are grateful to numerous students who helped capture events, sports and produce independent productions. In particular, we want to thank Northeastern University students Bryce Deardon and Sofia Cianca, who completed a spring co-op assignment with our Education Channel and were helpful on numerous productions while also producing their own original content. These programs will rebroadcast throughout the summer while we also work to cover the City of Newton’s Heritage Festivals and children’s entertainment activities. Our Education Channel internships offer flexibility throughout the year with for-credit or non-credit tracks to high school and college students. All of our interns receive hands-on experience with a central project produced by each student and created from concept to post-production. Learn more and apply online at newtv.org/internships.

GOVERNMENT CHANNEL UPDATE

by Stephen M. Kessinger, Director of Government & Educational Media

The City of Newton’s legislative branch of municipal government is comprised of a 24-member City Council. NewTV's series entitled Councilors at Work explores how our elected leaders make decisions. Hosted by Councilor Lisle Baker, President Emeritus, the program helps to explain the different Committees of the Council and relationships in working with city departments. Citizens who watch or attend the full Council meetings may miss much of what the Council does, as a comprehensive vote is taken through the “first call of committee reports.” Viewers of the show will get an in-depth perspective on the workings of these committees. Eight new shows were recently produced and are airing daily on NewTV’s Government Channel at 6:30pm. We hope that you will find the series informative and follow up on the invitation to get involved in your city government!

UPDATE

by Jenn Adams, News Director

Hopefully summer will bring some sunshine and warmth our way, and with summer comes plenty of outdoor activities from various groups and organizations. We’ll let you know when they’re coming up and how they went. Candidate nomination papers for Newton’s City Council and School Committee seats are available, and we’ll know once and for all who’s stepping down or term-limited out, and who’s running. You’ll see new faces out and about in the city covering stories relevant to Newton, like the newly opened recreational marijuana shops, construction projects and what your neighbors are doing. Newton News is currently finalizing a list of internship candidates. Of course, if you have a story idea, please send it our way. I’m always looking for interns and volunteers throughout the year as well.
